

CLOW IS SENT TO STATE PRISON

Man Arrested Here Is Found Guilty Of Burglary In Merrill

Avery Clow who was arrested in this city ten days ago on a message from officials at Merrill, was tried in circuit court at Merrill Friday and found guilty of the charge of grand larceny and was sentenced by Judge Reid to two years and a half in Waupun prison.

Clow, whose home was in Merrill entered a hardware store in that city and carried away merchandise to the value of more than $100. Coming to this city he endeavored to sell some of the stolen articles and was apprehended by the local officials Sam Johnson and Fred Anderle were summoned as witnesses in the case from here.

A spectacular defense, which seemed plausible at times, was reared by the defendant, says the Merrill News. A seemingly mythical friend "Bill Adams" who Clow had known years before, was the one from whom the accused man had received the stock which had evidently been taken from the Steffenhagen store, that robbery being the one in question. "Bill" disappeared in Heafford Junction, after leaving Clow with a large amount of the goods, to dispose of and keep the money, the prisoner declaring that in this fashion they came into his possession.

Much credit is given the Rhinelander officials by the Merrill papers for the cooperation given the Merrill police in capturing the man. Clow's father accompanied his son on the trip to the penitentiary.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS MEETING

An Excellent Program Is Given At Club Rooms Tuesday Afternoon

The Woman's Club held their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the club rooms. Twenty-nine members and one visitor were present to listen to an interesting program. The beautiful and well known oratorio, Haydn's Creation, was the subject and was ably handled by Mrs. Beardon, who described the different parts of the work and pointed out many of the best known and popular arias and choruses. The club was highly entertained by three musical numbers: two choruses, participated in by club members and some outside local talent who gave "Thy Word is Work" with soprano obligato by Miss Alice Schliesman and "The Heavens are Telling".

Mrs. Richards very effectively sang that beautiful solo "With Verdure Glad."

Those assisting the club ladies in the chorus work were: Miss Alice Schliesman, Miss Mary Langdon, Miss Van Piew, Messrs. Colburn and Brill.

In place of the timely topic, Mrs. Crosby, as delegate to the State Federation Convention held at Sheboygan, the 22nd of October, gave a comprehensive and pleasing resume of the sessions and the trend of thought, covered by the various speakers. Mrs. Crosby's report was listened to with great interest. Mrs. Crosby was selected at the convention to act on the state nominating committee for this district.

Two new members were admitted to membership, Mrs. Alex McRae and Mrs. Jennie K. Dean.

The Monday club was invited to be come guests of the Woman's Club for this meeting at which the report of the convention was given.

ST. MARY'S BIG FAIR.

Great Interest Shown In Bazaar November 24, 25 and 26.

No little interest is being displayed by the people of Rhinelander in the coming fair to be held under the auspices of St. Mary's church at the Armory November 24, 25 and 26. It has been several years since the congregation has conducted a fair of this kind and the enthusiasm which is being shown in the undertaking assures its success. The various substantial prizes offered by business houses of the city are sufficient to create a brisk demand for tickets. Not only are members of the congregation helping the cause but many people of other denominations are lending liberal assistance.

The race for the diamond ring between Miss Alice Schliesman and Miss Sarah Dean has commenced in earnest and promises to be a close and exciting one. The young ladies are popular, each has strong support and each will strive hard to win the contest.

KILLS TIMBER WOLF

Gus Gensler Of Three Lakes Collects Bounty On Animal

Friday Gus Gensler, a resident of Three Lakes, was a visitor to Rhinelander, the mission of his visit being to collect the bounty on a full grown timber wolf which he had killed a few miles east of the village of Three Lakes the Sunday previous. The animal weighed sixty pounds and Mr. Gensler exhibited the entire carcass. It is likely that there will be some more of these animals killed in the same vicinity as there are indications that there are a number in that locality.

CITY TO WELCOME POTATO GROWERS

Various Committees Are Named at Citizens Meeting Friday Night

Two weeks from the time that the people read this the Wisconsin Potato Growers' Association will be in full swing in Rhinelander. So we must be up and doing to leave a good impression of Rhinelander and Oneida county in the minds of all visitors.

Last Friday night at the meeting of business men to start preparations for the meeting the chairman and secretary of the meeting were made a committee to arrange for working committees. The following committees are now appointed:

Reception committee: John Hess, President of the Association, Mayor H. C. Braeger, John Moen, C. P. Crosby, Arthur Taylor, W. E. Brown, Dr. A. D. Daniels, Geo. Clark and R. F. Tompkins.

Finance committee: Fritz Sterling, George Jewell and M. W. Sorenson. Lighting committee: E. A. Forbes, Senator William Stevens and T. C. Wood.

Publicity committee: F. A. Lowell and E. E. Payne.

Decoration and music committee: Charles Bell, Paul Gaston and Al Lytle.

Housing committee: Jerome Teal, H. A. Lewis, C. P. Colburn and R. M. Dresden.

Hotel and Restaurant menus: J. J. Remo and Warren Reed.

Already up to the present time the Association has sent postal invitations to all potato growers in the state whose names could be secured. The farm and daily papers have called attention to the meeting at Rhinelander. Press notices have been sent out broadcast. And every one knows that weekly papers in rural communities have done their share in advertising the Rhinelander meeting. Without doubt Rhinelander and Oneida county have received advertising which would have cost them $10,000 had they had to pay for it. All of this thus far has been done for nothing for them.

Now it is up to the people here to advertise Rhinelander and Oneida county as live and progressive places in which it is worth while to live by taking care of this convention in a way that will leave a good impression. This must be done.

To do this will require a little money. When the members of the finance committee come around, help them along a hard road by cheerful contribution. The housing committee has a job on its hands. There will be at least 200 visitors to take care of. Open the houses and help out the hotels. Rhinelander must be hospitable. Help the housing committee.

The Wisconsin Potato Growers' Association is working to make better potato growing more profitable. Will that help Rhinelander? Well we guess. Why? Because Rhinelander is the center of one of the very best potato growing sections in the world. What will it mean to have 500 potato growers within ten miles of Rhinelander? 500 growers with 10 acres will mean 5000 acres of potatoes. Placing the yield at the conservative yield of 150 bushels and we have 750,000 bushels to be marketed at Rhinelander. At the present price of 50c that would mean $375,000 to be banked and spent at Rhinelander. But if the kind of potatoes is grown that the Association is trying to get grown the price will be nearer 75c. Add another $187,500 and we have a total of $562,500. And this money will be in the hands of a stable prosperous farming people. Will that mean anything to the future of Rhinelander?

Helping out this meeting will help to bring about just such a state of affairs here. Let it be known now that every one who stands off and obstructs the success (Continued on last page.)

GUILTY OF FORGERY

Emil Gilmore Is Returned To Waupun
For Two Years

After being bound over to circuit court for trial on a charge of forgery last Thursday, Emil Gilmore decided to go before Judge Reid at Wausau and plead guilty and receive sentence. He was taken to Wausau by Sheriff Asmudsen and Under Sheriff Crofoot, but as Judge Reid was holding court at Merrill he was given an automobile ride from Wausau to that city where on Friday he received a two year sentence in Waupun for the crime he had committed.

Gilmore is an old offender and was released from prison only a few months ago having completed a sentence for a similar offense. His last work along this line was the passing of a worthless time check for $25.00 on a clothing merchant in this city, obtaining merchandise to the value of a few dollars and the balance of the $25 in money. The clothing was recovered but he has spent all of the cash when arrested.

THOSE AWFUL KIDS

They Have Big Time At Elk's Club
Friday Evening

While many unique and enjoyable social functions have been given by the Rhinelander Elks during the last year it is the united verdict of those who attended that the "children's party" at the club rooms, Friday evening, shaded them all. It was the first time that an affair of this kind had ever been given in Rhinelander and the dictionary lacks adjectives to express the fun which it produced.

With but few exceptions the guests were attired in the garb of children and one can imagine the ludicrous picture which they presented. As an illustration there was A. S. Pierce, C. A. Conroy and C. A. Wixson in knee pants and blouses. These cute little fat "boys" were a scream in themselves and would make Billy Bounce blush with envy. There were many others who would also do credit to a comic supplement. Many of the ladies made real charming little girls with their neat frocks and hair braids, Teddy bears, poodle dogs, Snooky Ockum dolls and other playthings of childhood were in evidence. Dancing was in order until a late hour.

During the evening a flash light photograph of the party was taken by Carl Krueger.

GASOLINE CAUSES FIRE

Hose company No. 1 was called out Sunday morning for the first time in seven weeks when a slight blaze due to a gasoline explosion occurred in the Markham & Parker store. F. E. Parker had just finished filling a can with gasoline from the big tank and, walking what he supposed was a safe distance from the tank, struck a match to light a cigar. There was a sudden flash of flame and only Mr. Parker's presence of mind in covering the blaze with sacks prevented a serious fire.

MALVERN IS TO HAVE SAW MILL

Wausau Land Company Has Ten Years Timber Cut In That Vicinity

Malvern, the little village a few miles south of Rhinelander on the Northwestern railway, is to have a new saw mill. The plant will be erected by the Wausau Land company which concern, it is said, has sufficient standing timber in that locality to maintain the operation of the mill for ten years.

It is stated by those in authority that the plant will be an up-to-date one in every respect and will employ a large number of men. Already Malvern is assuming activities in the industrial line. Six new houses have just been built there and the prospects are that a dozen or more dwellings will be added in the spring. Several families from this city and Wausau will take up their residence there. Heavy logging operations will be carried on near there during the coming winter.

The timber controlled by the Wausau Land company near Malvern is of a mixed variety, including a considerable amount of pine.

This will be the local middleweight's second meeting with the Milwaukee boy, the two having clashed in Milwaukee less than one year ago. Perkins declares he is going to be in condition to put up a stiff battle and has expectations of scoring a knock-out. Those who have seen him train say that he has improved wonderfully in ring tactics. Steamboat Bill will by no means find him easy money.

Negotiations are now on for a match between Perkins and McGority, one of the greatest middleweights in the world, in Oshkosh on Thanksgiving day.

His bride, while a stranger in the city, is a lady of pleasing appearance and will no doubt make many friends among the people of Rhinelander.

IRON COMPANY GETS TAX REBATE

Firm Makes Mistake in Compiling Report and Council
Returns $141.60

At the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday evening the $26,000 high school bond issue ordinance was deferred and ordered published and will come up for vote at the December meeting.

Among other business the council granted the Rhinelander Lumber & Coal company permission to install a scale adjacent to the company's new office building on Alban street.

The petition of the Schlitz Brewing company to build a wood shed in the rear of their building at 17 Brown street was referred to the fire committee and Chief Cole.

$141.60 rebate on taxes was made to the Rhinelander Iron company. The company claimed a clerical error in compiling their income tax report and filed a petition to this effect.

There will be no street light on the corner of Spruce and Balsam streets, Hillside Addition. The petition for this light was not granted by the Board of Public Works.

The ordinance prohibiting the disfigurement of sidewalks in the city by chalk and paint for advertising purposes, which was recently introduced in the council, was voted down. Action was taken by the council on the regular monthly batch of bills.

The working force at the Florence and Ernst mines has been reduced owing to a lull in the ore market. The Buckeye mine will operate a full crew and with the heavy logging work now in progress the winter around Florence will by no means be dull.

A pair of silver gray foxes valued at $1500 were held at an express office here for over a week and finally returned to the shipper in Georgetown, Ont. The animals were consigned to Fromme Bros., the well known fox breeders who have a large fox farm near this city, and upon examining the animals it was found that one of them was afflicted with the mange.

By the appearance of the skull it looked as though the man had met his death by having been pounded on the head by some sharp instrument. Coroner Hansen is endeavoring to identify the remains and will make a complete investigation to determine cause of death.

Since then law was appealed to the supreme court the owners of the buildings have been awaiting the decision and if the law had been found invalid applications would have undoubtedly been made again for saloon licenses.

BOOKS AT LIBRARY FOR MOTHERS
Do the mothers of Rhinelander realize how many books there are at the library which are of vital importance to them in the training and rearing of children? Careful selection has been made of the very best books that are written pertaining to the home. Nearly every order for books includes some that parents can read with profit. These can be drawn out and read with no expense, simply for the asking.

A book that has just been received is entitled "Little Talks With Mothers of Little People." These simple chapters contain a great deal of sensible advice for the average mother. They are wholly free from technicalities, do not evade the difficult questions that face the mother from her child's infancy to adolescence, and will be both a practical help and a source of inspiration.

Holt, Care and Feeding of Children.
A standard book of high authority and value. One of the best, if not the best, works on the subject.

Hutchinson, We and our Children
Suggestive, helpful and extremely entertaining chapters on the care and training of children. Information on matters too little considered is given, and while in no sense a nursery guide the book is likely to prove more stimulating and actually valuable to parents of growing children than the formal works.

Key, Century of the Child.
Earnest, thought-provoking arraignment of social and educational institutions in their effect upon the child. Chapters of distinct value on children's education.

Lodge, Parent and Child.
A short essay, simple and eminently practical, on the moral and religious education of children.

Addams, The Spirit of Youth and the City Streets.
Interprets symbolically the instinct of youth for play and adventure, and points out the responsibility of providing proper places of amusement.

Cotton, Care of Children.
Plain, sensible directions for the management of children in health and disease.

Oppenheim, The Development of the Child.
The author holds that environment transcends heredity in influence and emphasizes the importance of scientific preparation for the care of children.

Oppenheim, Care of the Child in Health.

Gilman, Concerning Children.
Yale, Century Book for Mothers.
This only lists a part of the material that is contained in the library for parents.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Henry Ford saw it first—and the others followed. The left-hand drive was built to meet American, not European, traffic conditions. It's just one reason why the Ford stands first in public opinion. Other reasons? One model, light weight, economy.

Five hundred dollars is the new price of the Ford runabout; the touring car is five fifty; the town car seven fifty—all f.o.b. Detroit, complete with equipment. Get catalog and particulars from Matt Kristensen, Local Agent.

MAY GET BONDS BY DECEMBER 1

Postal Savings Depositors Must Apply Here Before That Date

According to advices received at the Rhinelander postoffice postal savings depositors may exchange a whole or part of their deposits for United States registered or coupon bonds by applying on or before Dec. 1. The bonds can be secured in denominations of $20, $100 or $500, bearing interest from Jan. 1, 1914, at the rate of 2½ per cent per annum, payable semi-annually and redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after one year from date of issue, both principal and interest payable 20 years from that date in United States gold coin.

A circular sent from Washington by Postmaster General A. S. Burleson states that postal savings bonds are exempt from all taxes or duties of the United States, as well as from taxation in any form by or under state, municipal or local authority.

Applications for the conversion of deposits into bonds must be received before the first of December by the postmaster at the depository of office where the certificates were issued. The postmaster will supply an application form which must be made out in triplicate.

The conversion of deposits into bonds at a date less than one year after the certificates begin to bear interest forfeits interest on the deposits as in the case of withdrawal for any other purpose. Postal savings deposits converted into bonds are not counted as a part of the maximum of $500 allowed one depositor, and there is no limitation on the amount of available postal savings bonds which may be acquired finally by the depositor. The exchange is considered as effective on January 1, and a depositor who has applied to convert into bonds all or part of the maximum balance of $500 may deposit an additional amount in January, though the bonds may not yet have been delivered.

Postal saving bonds can be procured by the conversion of postal savings deposits and will not be issued to persons who are not depositors. Under the regulations of the treasury department bonds registered in the name of a minor can be signed only by a duly appointed guardian or trustee, evidence of whose authority must be submitted. A minor has the right to convert his postal savings certificates into registered bonds, but if the bonds are assigned during his minority this regulation must be observed. This difficulty does not exist in the case of coupon bonds which are transferred by mere delivery.

ALVIN SUTTON WAS COOL

On Thayer street Friday morning the delivery horse of Roden & Carling caused a rattle of excitement by running away. Alvin Sutton, the driver, stuck to the wagon and at the risk of being injured succeeded in bringing the horse to a stand still after it had covered several blocks. The wagon was damaged. For his exhibition of coolness Alvin was highly complimented by many people who witnessed the incident.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

Who Are "Just Ready to Drop." When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help. Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run-down condition for several weeks but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the other medicines I ever took."

If the careworn, run-down women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they, too, would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderful strength creator and body-builder, and we sell it under a guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you.

P. S. For any skin trouble try our Saxo Salve. We guarantee it. John J. Reardon, Druggist, Rhinelander, Wis.

Mrs. Garrett Lee, 230 Lincoln St., Rhinelander, Wis., says: "We have given Doan's Kidney Pills a thorough trial and know that they act just as represented. One of our children suffered from disordered kidneys and complained of backache. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally procured from Reardon's Drug Store and it did not take them long to bring complete and lasting relief."

NEW ELECTRIC PIANO

A new Coinola electric piano has just been placed in Henning's cafe, 105 S. Stevens Street. This instrument is one of the latest on the market and also one of the most costly. It has a rich full tone and by simply touching a switch can be regulated at will. The case is of oak beautifully finished in early English. There is an artistic glass front through which, by the aid of an electric light, the mechanism can be seen.

Not only does this piano furnish the patrons of the cafe with the latest popular music but also adds to the attractiveness of the place. Mr. Henning believes in keeping up-to-date.

DECLARE WAR ON COLDS

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the don'ts which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

"Don't sit in a draughty car."
"Don't sleep in hot rooms."
"Don't avoid the fresh air."
"Don't stuff yourself at meal time."
Overeating reduces your resistance.
To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by All Dealers.

is wearing and dangerous because the inflamed, mucus-filled tubes interfere with breathing and the fresh air passes through that unhealthy tissue.

Probably no other remedy affords such prompt and permanent relief as Scott's Emulsion; it checks the cough, heals the linings of the throat and bronchial tubes and strengthens the lungs to avert tuberculosis. This point cannot be emphasized too strongly—that Scott's Emulsion has been suppressing bronchitis for forty years and will help you.

ADVERTISING RATES
Display advertisements—For a contract of three months or more, ten cents per column inch will be charged, for each insertion. For a shorter time higher rates will be charged.
In addition to the above, all compositions in display ads in excess of the minimum per line will be charged at the rate of thirty cents per hour.
READING NOTICES.
Reading notices will be charged at ten cents per line for the first insertion and five cents per line for each subsequent insertion.
All notices will be charged at regular rates except notices of church service. Paid entertainments for churches will be charged at half rates.

The New North has the contract for printing the city and the county proceedings the coming year. If you wish to know what the city officers and the county officers are doing it is necessary to subscribe for the New North. The New North is the only official city paper also the only official county paper.

A few days ago the board of review of the town of Pelican assessed the Robbins railroad eight thousand dollars for the present year and last year.

Griffith keeps some of his hirelings near the investigating committee of the forestry reserve to deceive the members of the committee but we hope these men are capable of judging for themselves.

The best paid work of the county is printing the election notice and still the News has done practically all these notices and put in a bill for the full legal rate. It makes a difference whose foot the shoe is on.

The relations between Mexico and the United States grow more tense. It would seem if Huerta, the dictator of Mexico, does not step down and out in a short time, it will be up to the president to use other and more vigorous tactics.

Is it not plain to the people that all this tirade of The News about doing the county printing is due to the fact that the News is jealous of the work given the New North? The News shows its animus over this and abuses the county officials and county board members.

The News tells you how cheaply it does the work for the public then charges the county twenty-five dollars for five hundred copies of a nine page paper, one page of which was devoted to the product of a News stockholder. They were not trying to down the New North then.

There is but one thing to be done and that is for the small tax payers in the different towns to ask the state tax commission to re-assess every town in the county. So much property of the large concerns are taxed very low or not at all that this is the only hope of relief.

Until recently one could hardly start a conversation without hearing about some wonderful country "away over there." Now, the talk is about Wisconsin opportunities. It is believed that not one-fourth as much Wisconsin money and people are going out of the state as three years ago. This is a healthy condition. The money invested in Wisconsin yields dividends to our own people and our own state.

Some of the members of the committee appointed to investigate the forest reserve are in and around the city this week but they are shadowed while here by some of the Griffith coterie to see that they do not get the truth from the people but we miss our guess if those men do not do some of their own thinking without aid from the Griffith hirelings.

LAW IS PLAIN
At Wausau only 9 cents is paid for the first thousand descriptions of the tax list publication and 7 cents for additional descriptions. Marathon county thus pays but $300 for 4,000 descriptions while Oneida county is paying $750.00 for the same amount owing to the failure here to get competitive bids on the printing—Rhinelander News.

The law is plain and specific regarding the publishing of delinquent tax lists. It prescribes that the county treasurer shall have the list published in a county paper at twenty-five cents each for the first thousand and fifteen cents each up to four thousand, and if it reaches the number it shall be opened to bids of all papers in the county and let to the lowest bidder so Wausau did exactly what Oneida county has done under the conditions, get bids when the list is four thousand or above. A few years ago the Vindicator now the News, bid when the list reached over four thousand.

EASY TO SEE THROUGH

The News says the people are interested in their statements regarding the printing of the tax lists. We think the News' information must have come from Brown Bros. and not from the ordinary taxpayers. The regular taxpayer pays not one cent toward the printing of the tax lists. The cost of the printing is added to each description when sold and the purchaser of the description pays the cost of printing when he buys the description. As Brown Bros. are heavy purchasers of these lists, they could make considerable money if the printing were done at a low price. So long as they are heavy buyers they would be money ahead if the long list of News stockholders were losers on the printing of the lists, if the News did the work.

DOWN WITH TAMMANY

The election of Tuesday seems simple but important in a way. By the defeat of McCall, the Tammany candidate for mayor of New York city by over a hundred twenty thousand majority the Tammany chief, Thomas F. Murphy, seems to have lost his mighty political power in New York City and the state of New York. At the Baltimore convention, Secretary Bryan said, the democratic party could not afford to nominate a candidate for President, who received Murphy's support at that convention. It was this that defeated Speaker Clark and threw the nomination to President Wilson.

Again, by the irony of fate William Sulzer, the recently impeached governor of New York, was a most potent factor in defeating the Tammany gang. The New York Herald said it was Sulzer's influence which gave great zest to the anti Tammany ticket. Tammany stock took a awful slump all through New York state and the republicans regained control of the New York assembly by a good majority. William Sulzer who was turned from the governor's chair three weeks ago was elected to the New York assembly as a progressive. He will certainly make it interesting for his successor in the governor's chair.

Massachusetts elected Walsh, democrat, for governor by over fifty thousand majority. Governor Fielder of New Jersey, the Wilson candidate, was returned to his chair by a handsome majority. Lee, democrat, was elected for U. S. Senate of Maryland by a large majority.

President Wilson is much pleased over the many democratic victories. He feels it is the approval of the voters for his tariff and currency policies. This endorsement will encourage him to push his measures all along the lines.

In Illinois the drys won sweeping victories with the aid of women's votes which figured in local elections in that state. Twelve towns that now have saloons, were captured by the "drys". The "wets" won in but five towns, all of which already have saloons. This will make the saloon interests fight with more vigor to keep the ballot from women.

PERSECUTE JUDGE LINDSEY

The following is a fair illustration of what the special interests resort to to destroy a man who interferes with their business no matter what his motives or his accomplishments for humanity. Judge Lindsey is one of the greatest public benefactors of America but the special interests have no favorites when their business is interfered with. Neither do they hesitate to use any weapons whether women or men to carry out their ends.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey's home and other possessions are mortgaged. His health is impaired and the doctors say he ought to be in a sanatorium for a rest of two months. But "The Beast" won't permit him to leave the battleground.

While Lindsey was ill in a sanatorium in the east "The Beast" started a new attack on him, the bitterest of all which Judge Lindsey even faced.

"I don't care what they say or do," said Judge Lindsey. "They can crucify me if they want to, but I won't stop my fight. My address is Jurelle Court, Denver, and I'm going to be there in the future, just as I have in the past, unless they kill me! I WON'T GIVE UP!"

"Judge Lindsey sets free negro rapists."

That is one charge being made against this "doctor of sick lies."

"Judge Lindsey pardons boys and men who assault girls" is another charge.

"The girls suffer and boys go free. It's a boy's court. There isn't a name of a ruined girl on the records of the court."

These are grim charges. An organization of three women in Denver called the Woman's Protective League, which is secretly backed, it is charged, by Rodin Curtis, once head of the Denver street car system, made these charges and continues to scatter them broadcast throughout the country.

In Denver the people don't believe them. They know that the league is a small organization with a secret purpose.

"They're a pack of lies," says Judge Lindsey. "In regard to that negro assault charge. A little girl told the police she had been attacked by an old negro man. The officials found that the little girl had told them a 'ghost story,' and in my court the little girl admitted that her story was make-believe. I let the old negro go and the officials gave him a letter of apology for holding him in jail."

"They say the names of girls don't appear on my court records, as if I never went into such cases from the girl's standpoint. It's the girl's standpoint I take. You bet their names don't appear on the court records! I've kept secret every case of the boy-and-girl sort. These enemies of mine demand that I have court trials and that I bring the girl into court and make her testify against the boy and thus brand the girl herself forever!"

"It is in this way girls are forced into brothels. I handle such cases in my private office. I talk to the boy and girl together. Sometimes I send the boy to jail as a lesson. I get the truth out of the girls in this way. Little girls who go wrong all ways try to protect the boy. In my office, where women assistants help me, the girls tell the whole truth!"

"I can't tell you of all the happy marriages in Denver that have begun in my court or of all the girls in Denver who have been given another chance in life. And these girls won't fall again, either, because now they know the truth about things."

"In the old-fashioned way—the way I'm blamed for not following—the girl would have been disgraced and driven to the streets; the baby would have been taken from her and the father would have been turned into a jail-bird. I'm making HOMES in my court, not OUTCASTS!"

"It's a triangle—this girl, boy and baby—that our courts haven't learned to take care of yet. I'm sending boys and men to jail when they won't help me in my home-plan, but I won't turn three human beings into three social outcasts when, instead, I can turn them into one family!"

MRS. THOMAS GROOMES

Death Came Suddenly From Heart Failure Wednesday Noon

The sudden death of Mrs. Thomas Groomes Wednesday noon at her home 219 Anderson street caused deep sorrow among her host of friends in this city. Mrs. Groomes had been in feeble health for the last year but recently it was not thought that her condition was serious.

At the time above stated she was taken with a sudden sinking spell and before a physician could be summoned passed quietly away. Heart failure is given as the cause of death.

Mrs. Groomes was 45 years of age and a native of Iowa. She leaves a husband and one son, William. She is also survived by her parents, who live in Aberdeen, S. D., two sisters and two brothers. All are expected here for the funeral which will be held from St. Mary's church Saturday morning.

Mrs. Groomes was a true Christian woman, a good neighbor and staunch friend and her death is a genuine loss to the community. Profound sympathy is expressed for the sorrowing loved ones who are left to mourn.

Wanted--Confidence

The one thing which is keeping what may be called the "high grade" domestic trade out of the home laundries is the lack of confidence in them. There are plenty of power laundries which launder fine household linen, ladies' apparel and gentlemen's shirts, collars and cuffs as they should be. The trouble is they are not easy to locate.

Most people think that a "laundry is a laundry."

We want you to know that our plant is different from the average; we take a pride in our work and can convince you of this fact, if you will give us a trial.

"STARVING TO DEATH"

Was Mrs. Bell, of Florida, When She Began Taking Peruna.

"Yes, I was starving to death," said Mrs. Emma Bell of Fort Pierce, Florida, Box 204, "when I began to take Peruna. I could not eat anything. If I swallowed anything it soured on my stomach. My stomach was very much swollen. My bowels acted as if I had acute dysentery. I was in great distress and pain. Three doctors had been employed, but gave me no relief. I was continually growing worse."

I Was In Despair.

"In my despair I caught at every straw. Picking up a newspaper I saw some account of Peruna. There was a testimonial from a woman who had been troubled much like myself. I concluded to try Peruna."

I Wrote to Dr. Hartman.

"At the same time I wrote to Dr. Hartman. He pronounced my case catarrh of the stomach and bowels. I soon began taking Peruna. At once I began to improve. After taking half a bottle my stomach was so improved that I could eat some."

I Began to Recover.

Then this good housewife goes on to narrate in detail her rapid improvement and final recovery. She said, "After taking two bottles of Peruna I was strong enough to stand up to wash the dishes." When she began taking Peruna she weighed 162 pounds. After she had taken five bottles of Peruna she weighed 122 pounds. She concludes by saying that she is well.

It Was Twelve Years Ago.

The letter from which the above quotations were made was received January 29, 1901. In a later letter, written September 11, 1904, she says, "I sing the praises of Peruna far and near. It is used a great deal in our vicinity. This seems to be a bad place for catarrh." We have received letters from her since. The last time we heard from her, December 1912, she was still a friend of Peruna.

For other testimonials on catarrh of the stomach, see "Hills of Life," sent free. Address Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

The stomach and bowels are lined with a mucous membrane. They are therefore subject to catarrh, the same as the nose and throat. Catarrh of the stomach and bowels will derange the functions of these organs. The stomach can no longer digest food. The food lying in the stomach, even for a short time, without digestion, immediately sours. The souring produces gas and irritation.

Food Sours in the Stomach

A portion of the undigested meal is absorbed into the system by the blood vessels of the stomach. This poisons the whole system, producing a condition now known as auto-intoxication; self poisoning. The fermenting, irritating mass as it passes down into the bowels irritates the bowels, producing sometimes a chronic diarrhea, sometimes producing the very opposite, constipation.

The average dyspepsia medicine helps to artificially digest the food. Even when such medicine does its work it is only temporary. A permanent relief can only be expected when the catarrh is overcome.

Symptoms of Catarrh of the Stomach.

The symptoms of catarrh of the stomach are: First, heartburn. Second, food rises in throat after meals. Third, sour stomach. Fourth, heavy feeling after eating. Fifth, stomach bloated, belching of gas. Sixth, palpitation of heart. Seventh, poor digestion. Have dyspepsia. Eighth, tongue coated light brown. Ninth, tenderness over pit of stomach. Tenth, cannot bear tight clothes around waist.

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

FLASHES FROM THE HEADLIGHT

Bits of News Pertaining To The Soo and Northwestern
Railroads

Assistant Superintendent R. E.
Armstrong, of the Northwestern's
Ashland division, has been appointed to the position of Superintendent of the Iowa and Minnesota division, with headquarters at Mason City, Ia.

T. M. Coughlin, the popular trainmaster of the Ashland division, will succeed Mr. Armstrong. Ed. Doner, traveling engineer of the division, has been selected to fill the position of trainmaster. Mr. Doner some twenty years ago was employed as fireman in the old Lake Shore yards in Rhinelander and has many friends here who are pleased to learn of his promotion.

There is a report that the Soo line is going to build a new deposit in Prentice. The traveling public and the people of Prentice earnestly hope that this rumor is true. If there is any station on the entire Soo system which needs a new depot that station is Prentice.

Notices have been placed in Wisconsin railroad offices at division points, addressed to the members of the Order of Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, to the effect that the heads of each order would hold their men responsible for railroad wreck's occurring from carelessness in the use of and displaying of signals.

The presidents of the four orders when they signed the notices, took for an example the recent terrible wreck on the New Haven road. It was found that disregard of signal rules was the main cause of the disaster. The main idea in posting these rules originated with the "Safety First" movement, which nearly all railroads in the United States are promoting.

INSPECT HEATING PLANTS

Defective furnaces, boilers, stoves and fireplaces; stoves, stovepipes and hot-air pipes too near wood-work; defective chimneys, sparks from chimneys and chimneys burning out, and placing ashes in wooden receptacles on wood floors, or against wood walls, last fiscal year, were responsible for 595 fires in this state over 24 per cent. of the total number of fires, and a fire waste of $690,459, or over 18 per cent. of the total fire loss, says a bulletin issued by the state fire marshal.

These fires were responsible for snuffing out many human lives.

Ordinary care and timely repairs would have prevented most of this fire waste and loss of human life.

The danger season for this class of fire is fast approaching, so do not delay to have your heating plant inspected by a competent man, and make the needed repairs at once.

CITY ORDINANCES YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

Anti-Cigarettes

In a Milwaukee paper last spring the statement was made that not one boy in all the high schools of that city could be valedictorian of his class and it also stated further that smoke ing cigarettes was the reason why the girls won out in scholarship in every school. Now if this dulling of the mental faculties of our boys was the only or worst results of the cigaret habit it would be sufficient reasons for discontinuing the manufacture and sale of such powerful poison, but science teaches that the cigaret blots out a boy's memory, destroys his ability to tell truth, steals away his desire for knowledge and that which knowledge brings, sears and deadens his conscience, leaving him without the plummet line defining right from wrong; that after all this has been accomplished he and his next of kin must reap the fruits of this poisonous indulgence manifested as it is in the unrestrained and un restrainable activities of these boys which are daily spread upon the court calendar of the state. Our state law also prohibits the selling or giving away of cigarettes or cigar et paper, yet boys everywhere have no trouble in getting all they want and men are selling them over their counters neither questioned nor prosecuted. Boys understand such conduct and because men defy law boys will disobey it, because men smoke boys demand the cigaret and have no trouble in getting it, and the result of these conditions is seen in our over-flowing idiotic homes, or overcrowded insane asylums, the wait ing lists of our houses of correction and reform schools, our jails team ing with young life and our state penitentiary with eight hundred pris oners a large majority of whom are young men!

The State Equal Suffrage Association will hold its annual convention in Madison, Nov. 19 and 20. Rhine lander will probably have a dele gate present.

Making the Little Farm Pay

By C. C. BOWSFIELD

SMALL fruits pay well and afford a great pleasure to the family on a little farm. They are ideal products where the place is small and situated near a city, so that they may be sold to families or hotels and restaurants. Much waste and loss of profit will be avoided by delivering to private customers.

An advantage in raising berries comes from the quick growth as well as from the small acreage required. It takes only a year to get started with small fruits. They can be grown in an orchard and will return a large amount of money in the years when peach and apple trees are coming to maturity. The more this orchard ground is stirred the better, and the cultivation of berries is of actual benefit to the large fruits. A fair yield of strawberries will bring $200 to $300 an acre, according to market conditions. Raspberries return 30 to 50 per cent less.

Small fruit requires a rich, well drained soil. A light, deep loam is best, and an abundance of well rotted barnyard fertilizer should be plowed in. Soggy land is not favorable to any kind of fruits, but nevertheless moisture is needed, and unless rain is plentiful it will pay to carry water or convey it by means of hose.

Plant at the proper time in hills or hedges and keep the soil loose with hoe or cultivator. Pinch off all blossoms the first season. Mulch with straw and manure in the fall. Straw berries are hardy and prolific, but skilled attention will pay in extent and quality of production. With a view to successful marketing both early and late varieties should be cultivated.

Raspberries are next in importance. There is not so much tedious work connected with growing raspberries as strawberries, and the profits are not quite so large. Set the plants in the spring in rows six feet apart and three feet apart in the rows. This gives plenty of room for cultivating, which must be done thoroughly throughout the growing season. Some experts do not stake raspberries, as is the custom with most growers. When the tips are about two feet high they are pinched back. This causes laterals to be sent out along the stems. In the spring at trimming time these laterals are cut back so as to leave about six inches, and they hold up all the berries they can properly mature.

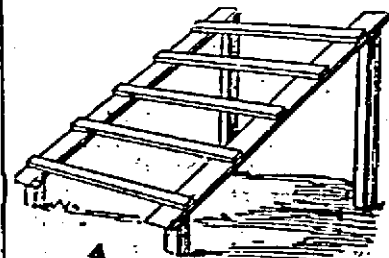

The red varieties do not need the summer pruning, but are pruned back to about eighteen inches in the spring.

Currants and gooseberries require almost the same treatment and can be considered together. One or two year old plants are best and should be set in rows four feet apart each way so that they may be cultivated both ways. This method insures thorough and easy cultivation. They should be cultivated frequently so as to have a good soil mulch during the growing season. It is best to grow the plants in bush form and trim out very little, only the surplus and deadwood.

It is very important to kill all cur rent worms with some poisonous spray as soon as they appear. If this is neglected the bushes will soon be de stroyed.

When a producer has established a reputation for having a good quality of fruit and giving full measure there will be no difficulty in securing cus tomers. If the product exceeds the demand of private patrons it is always possible to ship to stores or commis sion houses. Bear in mind, however, that the selling end of the business is important and try to arrange in ad vance for private customers or retail merchants to take the whole output.

Convenient Chicken Roost.

Select two four inch pieces six feet long. Lay them parallel and nail five crosspieces, three feet long and three inches wide, to these. The legs may be made of 2 by 4 stuff the desired length. By means of long spikes secure them to the parallel pieces. Place this in roosting quarters for chickens and they will soon be perching upon it at night.—Iowa Homestead.

PLANT TREES!

When we plant a tree we are doing what we can to make our planet a more wholesome and happier dwelling place for those who come after us, if not for our selves.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Fall Plowing Kills Outworms. Fall plowing of field areas will often be of service in controlling outworm that are affecting field crops.

NIGH UNTO DEATH

By ALVA R. HUNTINGTON

It was at a time when the trans mississippi country was developing, and instead of the iron horse, with its train dashing along at the rate of fifty miles an hour, the stagecoach lumbered at the rate of five or six. One of these coaches left Denver one morning, struck the mountains at Golden City, mounted to the highest point and moved on downward and upward alternately toward Georgetown.

On the top of the coach a gentleman and his family were enjoying the scenery. The driver sat on his box trying to keep awake, for he had been drinking, while beside him sat a young man whose costume denoted that he was a resident of the region. The coach reached the top of an ascent, and the road in front wound downward in one of those frequent dips in the mountains. It had begun the descent, and the young man sitting beside the driver, noticing that he had failed to put on the brake, looked aside at him to see what it meant. The fellow was asleep and had not only failed to "brake," but had let go his hold on the reins, which were now down on the pole.

A punch in the ribs awoke the driver, who, seeing the reins dangling from the pole and the coach rolling rapidly down the crooked road, jumped from his seat, preferring rather to be injured by a fall on the stony road than to be hurled over a precipice he knew to be at a turn farther down.

There were shrieks from the women passengers, while the men were paralyzed. But among the latter there was one exception. The young man left alone on the box let himself down on the pole, gathered up the reins, climbed back on to the box and put on the brake. The horses were by this time so wild and the speed so great that it was very difficult to control the one and lessen the other. Not an eighth of a mile distant was the turn in the road, with a gulf a thousand feet deep on one side. The cries and shrieks had ceased with the effort thus far made to regain control, and every eye was fixed on the danger ahead, every breath held in terror.

The man on the box kept a firm hand on the reins and pushed with all his strength with his right foot on the break. There was a lessening of the speed, but would it be reduced suffi ciently to go safely round the curve? The hearts of those whose lives were at stake were throbbing in time with the jumping of the horses. When the turn was reached the velocity was still so great that there was little hope. The women recommended to shriek.

"Stop that!" said the driver. "You'll excite the horses."

The cries ceased. There was no sound except what came from the horses' hoofs and the creaking of the coach, while every one held with a tight grip to his seat and looked with straining eyes at the gulf before him. The driver guided the horses as near the rock on the inner side as he dared, for should he hit the coach would be knocked over the precipice. Notwithstanding his effort so great was its swing when it made the turn that a hind wheel slid over a slope a few feet from the edge. The driver gave a yell to the horses and threw the long lash of his whip among them with a crack. Every animal gave a jump, the wheel came back on level ground, and the rest of the turn was made in safety.

The final effort caused the horses to break forth again, and again they must be brought under control. But now the road was comparatively straight and soon the inclination began to lessen. In a few minutes the bot tom of the dip was reached, and the coach was brought to a standstill. Then the driver was folded in the arms of those on the outside of the coach, both men and women.

An hour later the coach drove up to the hotel at Idaho Springs and all alighted. The gentleman who was traveling with his wife and family took the driver aside for a private inter view.

"You have saved the lives of a coach load of persons," he said, "including myself, my wife and family. Had it not been for your coolness and courage we would all have met with a frightful death. What can I do for you? I'm rich and my fortune is at your disposal."

"You owe me nothing, sir," said the young man, with a British accent. "My own life was in jeopardy. In saving myself I saved the others."

"You could have left the coach as the cowardly driver did."

To this the young man made no reply.

"Come," resumed the gentleman; "anything you ask that is in my power to grant shall be granted."

The young man hesitated, then said: "I don't belong here; I came from England. You know the younger sons in England must shift for themselves. I came to this country, where I am not known, and can turn my hand to anything. Being fond of horses, I drove a stage. I have left that and am going up to Georgetown to start on a prospecting tour."

But the young man's plans were changed. He went to the east, entered the banking house of the man whose life he saved and is now wealthy. He says that he went just near enough to the edge of a precipice to grasp a fortune without going over.

RIGHT SOIL FOR ALFALFA.

Deep Loam is Best, but Other Kinds Will Produce Crops.

Many people make the fatal mistake of expecting alfalfa to do well on soils that are not fit properly to produce any kind of crop, says Bulletin 25 of the Purdue university (Indiana) sta tion. There is just as much need of care in selecting and preparing soils for alfalfa as for any other crop and probably more because of its deep rooting habits and large plant food requirements.

Deep, loamy soils with open subsoils are undoubtedly best for alfalfa, but there is plenty of evidence to show that it may be successfully produced on almost any type of soil, from light sandy or gravelly loams and peats or mucks to heavy clays, provided that it is well drained, sweet and properly supplied with organic matter and avail able plant food.

Many soils that at present are not fit for alfalfa culture may be made so by providing drainage facilities, correct ing acidity, adding organic matter or supplying needed plant food, according to the requirements. Good drainage is essential in order that the roots may go deep into the soil. Hardpan must be broken up or avoided altogether. Soils that are sour may be made sweet by thorough drainage and the applica tion of lime.

A good supply of decomposable or ganic matter in the soil helps the bac terial action in making plant food available, facilitates the inoculating process and, together with a good drain age, prevents heating in the spring. For soils that are out of condition in this respect a good way to supply or ganic matter if sufficient manure is not available is to raise and plow under a crop of cowpeas or some other green manuring crop before attempting to grow alfalfa.

Peat and muck soils may be used for alfalfa if they are well drained and properly supplied with mineral plant food. Potash is nearly always lacking in these soils, and often phosphoric acid and lime must also be supplied. Soils that are subject to flooding are not good for alfalfa.

WASTE OF GOOD MATERIAL.

Tons of good humus making material are allowed to lie un used on many farms. Much of the unsightly rubbish which mars the appearance of the premises could be changed into valuable plant food by compost ing. Every farm and especially every truck farm should have a compost heap into which sods, lawn clippings, leaves and other waste matter could be thrown and rotted down. If wet down and forked over occasionally such stuff will soon be turned into fine garden mold.—Farm Journal.

Fertilizers For Apples.

At a meeting of the Massachusetts Horticultural society Wilfred Wheeler recommended this formula as a basis for fertilizing young apple trees: Six pounds of sluz, two pounds of potash (low grade sulphate), one pound nitrate of soda. An application of a pound of this mixture per tree per year of tree's age will keep it growing in a healthy state.

FOR THE POULTRY BEGINNER.

Determine the schedule and ration for feeding the chicks.

Decide whether you will start with hens, hatching eggs or chicks.

Determine the style of laying house and arrangement of the plant.

Properly locate your plant and de cide upon the number of layers to keep.

Settle upon the feeding ration for layers and the schedule for working it.

Decide how you will protect your baby chicks from their enemies—rats, cats, dogs, inclement weather.

Decide upon the breed of chickens to be kept and select a breeder from which to get your foundation stock.

Determine the method of brooding your chicks. Select your equipment and the style of house you intend to install it in.

Determine the method and equip ment necessary to raise successfully to the laying age the chicks after they have passed the brooding stage.

Solve the problem of the selling end—how to market your product at a profitable margin above cost.—Country Gentleman.

INTO ARMS OF LAW

By J. A. TIFFANY.

I had been engaged in the practice of law for a period longer than I care to state before I made as much as a policeman earns.

But, now, I had been fortunate enough to secure the appointment of municipal court judge.

This had been my first day of office, and there had not been a single case for trial. It looked as if my experi ence as a private practitioner was to be repeated in my official capacity. Even the law-breakers and litigants shunned me.

I was aroused from my meditations by the sound of footsteps.

In a few moments a man's figure appeared in the open doorway. He was unmistakably from the country.

A clumsy, ungainly man, appar ently about forty-five years of age, he advanced toward my desk with stealthy, nervous step. The fellow had a hunted look.

"Say, mister," he said, in a whis per, "what will you charge to get me out?"

"Of what?" I asked.

"Well, I don't want to tell, but I suppose I shall have to; it's all over town. Please don't let them take me to jail, mister."

"What's the trouble? What have you done?" I asked the fellow. "But, I may as well warn you, before you go any further," I added, remembering my new appointment, "that I am a judge, as well as a lawyer."

"You a judge," the yokel exclaimed, in a tone of horror. "Oh, gosh, I've run right into the arms of the law, when I was trying my best to escape. Please, sir, don't send me to jail," the fellow whined.

"If you are in need of professional advice, I think you had better go to another law office, and not tell me anything about your troubles," I said. "I can't send you to jail until you are brought before me in the ordinary course of justice."

"But, I don't want to go to jail at all, judge. I didn't think they would hold it against me all these years. I haven't been in the city in thirty years, and if you'll only let me go this time, I'll promise never to come here again."

"Now, see here, my man," I said sharply, for the fellow was becoming tedious, "if you have anything to say to me, I will listen to it, and treat it confidentially, so far as I can. Either tell me your troubles, or go and tell them to some other lawyer."

"No," said the man, desperately. "I'll make a clean breast of it to you, judge. You see, mister, when I was a boy—thirty years ago—I came to the city one day, in my father's sleigh; and while the old man was around town doing his business, I played about the stable where he put up his horse. There was a lot of snow on the ground, and some of the city boys began calling me a hayseed, and pel ling me with snowballs. I didn't like it—not so much the snowballing as their calling me a hayseed. So I made some snowballs myself and shied back at them. Well, just as I was throwing a good hard ball at one of the boys, a policeman came round the corner, and it knocked off his hat. I started and ran as hard as I could. I never stopped till I got to my father's farm away out in the country, ten miles from here. I laid awake all that night, expecting that they would be coming for me; and I've been ex pecting them ever since. But, as I had not heard of it in all these years, I plucked up courage and came in today, thinking it had all blown over. But I see that I was mistaken. They're after me."

"What makes you think they are after you?" I asked the fellow.

"There's notices all over the city," the man whined.

"What kind of notices?" I asked.

"I haven't seen anything of them."

"Why, one says, 'Bill Posters be ware, and another, 'Bill Posters will be prosecuted!'"

"What's your name?" I asked, as a light seemed to break in on me in all this nonsensical tragedy.

"Posters," the man replied. "Wil liam Posters. But they generally call me Bill—Bill Posters."

"Ah, I see," I said, with a sigh of relief. "And you want to settle this quietly—without any exposure?"

"Well, this is a case, I am afraid, that can't be settled with a fine," I said, rising and confronting the vil lain, who shrank from me, and cov ered near the door.

"You won't send me to jail, judge?" he pleaded.

"No, well settle it without that," I said. "Just turn round."

As Mr. Posters turned his back on me, I gave him a good, hearty kick, that sent him clear through the door way.

"Is that all?" he asked, with a bac colic smile.

"Yes, that's all—for the present," I replied. "But, if you ever come near this office again, I'll give you a good deal more than that. Now—skedaddle, Bill Posters, and get back on the farm, where you belong."

Hobson (leaving the ball grounds)—"Bah! Baseball is a regular skin game. Here I paid my money to see a game, and the game is called on account of darkness, with the score nothing to nothing."

Dobson—Heavens man! That is usu ally considered a great game.

Hobson—Yes; but I think they should give one a run for his money, anyhow.—Puck.

ful outcome of this meeting is helping to retard the growth of Rhinelander and to stunt it. Rhinelander can be the town of the north-east country. But it can be that only by the generous and loyal service of its citizens. We cannot sit down here and expect outsiders to come in here and give it all to us. All ready prominent business firms of Chicago and Milwaukee, Minneapolis and St. Louis, and other places are preparing to send representatives. Newspaper men from outside will be here. Professors from the College and state officials will come along Rhinelander must use the potato growers right. Everybody help right now.

FIBER FURNITURE IS VERY FASHIONABLE

Since the making of Fiber Furniture which is only a few years back two or three million people have been interested in it. Some bought one piece skeptically—then came for more. The truth is, the soft brown color of the fiber imparts a warm hospitable air to a room that is not equalled by any other color scheme. The brown blends with almost any other color in your furnishings and in this brown finish is very easily kept clean. For three reasons, the Fiber Furniture is destined to a lasting popularity that makes the buying of it safe and economical. Our new fall pieces for Living Room, Den and Library are especially charming.
